CURIOUS THINGS OF LIFE

A Vienna lad of 6 attempted suicide by swallowing a strap.

A Chicago faith healer refused to treat a man for dyspepsia because he would not pickles.

A young lady in Whaling claims to have refused forty offers of marriage during the past year.

At the funeral of a young man named Rice,

at Shamokin, Pa., four young ladies were the only mourners.

A small town near Morgantown, W. Va., has an eccentric woman who wears a different colored wig each day in the week.

Richard Chandler, a wealthy resident of Ireland, Wis., suffers from a peculiar affliction.

His mouth is growing together.

Ghastly sounds in the old court house of Leek Haven have been heard since the death of a small dog imprisoned in a hole in the wall.

It is said that on the inside of a ring used in the trial of a man named Logan, the following

"T. and H. is brothered April, 1881, divorced

May, 1885."

A gorilla in the London zoological gardens took a bar of iron two inches thick and made it double in his hand, and with one blow of his teeth he shivered a mahogany knot into matchwood.

While James Bookie was bidding at an auction in Williamsport, Pa., a few days since, the auctioneer presented him with a split in two and he fell into the "hole."

The fall killed him.

Elberton, Ga., has a curiosity in the form of a colored boy. He is a native of the unusual size of his mouth. He can put a large baseball in this organ and then have room for his hands to pull it out.

A wealthy and eccentric old man at Tyler,

Tex., who has relatives who died recently, declared that his property had been divided among all persons living in the county in states who were born on his birthday, March 9, 1863.

A Connecticut woman is selling her neighbor for farming on putting up by scores.

She claims that the fish which she counts get into the neighbor's house on this count will come into her, and she will thereby have double the usual number.

A sharp fable is making a good income by advertising a sure method of killing all insects. When you send him fifty cents you will receive a printed card on which are three words, "Get your insects to smoke quickly, and they will die within an hour or less."

A remarkable phenomenon was witnessed at Cardiff lately. After a fall of rain it was noticed that the pond of water in the neighborhood was filled with fish. The phenomenon is what is known as "bleeding rain," and was in fact the first of its kind in the history of the place.

Workmen engaged on the foundations of a new building at the corner of Grand and Wall streets, New York, discovered a large number of bones scattered all over the ground. They were not human bones, but bones of a large animal, and belonged to a far distant period when man was not used in financial transactions.

Inside of an old abandoned pump well at Whitfield, W. Va., a couple of blackbirds have taken up their abode and built a nest, in which are several eggs. The owner of the property, on learning how the birds had found their way into the well, ordered the well to be filled up, and the birds were found dead when the well was opened.

When a Chinaman expects a present and it does not come he is disappointed. He does not come home with a present, and

he does not come home with a present, and

he does not come home with a present, and

he does not come home with a present, and

—Mayor Gable recently attested the $200,000 waterworks bonds issued on the Marion plant to be funded by Howard & Bates. This seems like a good round figure of bond indebtedness to be put on the plant, and gives some idea of what the city will pay if it ever concludes to buy the works.

—A pettime peddler (claiming to be the agent of Albert Foxey, at Cleveland, O.) has succeeded in swindling a number of unfortunate innocents throughout the city. This method is that of introducing a fine quality of perfume as a sample and after making a sale the buyer finds himself in possession of a worthless mixture with the agent nowhere to be found.

—Burglar Finner, M. J. Monnett and G. W. Hall were in Upper Sandusky yesterday to testify in the Kerr will case. Since the compromise with Eaton was made the children have commenced proceedings to have the will set aside on the ground that the old man was not of sound mind. Under the will the property goes to the grand children. The litigation will doubtless be long and bitter, and the prospect makes the lawyers smile and smile.

—St. Mary's Picnic.

—The members of St. Mary's congregation are making vigorous efforts to have an amusing program for their picnic at the Fair ground tomorrow. Among the exciting features will be a bicycle race between Betsy and Prospect which men for a $10 gold badge. Also a matinee of races will take place—running, pacing and trotting. The following entries have been made: Bessie Blue Bull, P. O. Buck, Jack Brown, Frank Patchen, Sorel Dan and Mollie Mexico.

THE WILL BROKEN
Robert Kerr's Long Will Set Aside in Marion County Court.

Special to Daily Star.]

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 3.—It will be of interest to Marionites to know that the much talked of will of the late Robert Kerr has been broken, all the heirs having consented to setting aside the document.

There are various things in connection with the deal that would interest Marionites but they are not public in an official way. It is understood that the Eaton-Edward Finley combination makes a good hundred thousand by the move.

If there is no hitch in the proceedings a gentleman from Marion is to be appointed executor of the will.

The outcome is a compromise between the lighting factions.

NO PAPER TOMORROW

The Star will not be issued tomorrow. There is absolutely nothing demanding newspaper attention on that day, and it seems the proper occasion for an office holiday. We wish our readers a glorious Fourth.

The C. H. A. and T. R. R.

This morning's Columbus Journal contains the following editorial gossip:

"The attention of New York financiers is just now attracted to the Columbus, Hooking Valley and Toledo railroad, and rumors of a change of management come from various sources. Charles B. Davis & Co., N. Y., bankers and brokers, was here last week and made a tour of inspection of the property. He was satisfied that the road was in good condition, the report having been circulated that the property had run down. It is a fact patent to those acquainted with the road that its condition has been greatly improved under the regime of the management of the present year. The management of the company has been maintained on a firm basis. The road is today one of the best equipped in the state. It has 6000 freight and 11 passenger and baggage cars, and 30 locomotives, 65 of which are for freight, 17 passenger, and 17 switching purposes. The main line is 256 miles in length. The branches aggregate 60 miles and second track and sidings 108 miles, making a total length of track of 324 miles. Of all the track 324 miles is laid with steel and 286 with iron rail. There are 250 miles of permanent ballast, stone and slag, and 180 miles of ballast, gravel, etc. There is no other better piece of railroad property having a north and south line in the West. I estimate the net revenue of the road was $225,000, in the case of $215,000. The interest on the bonded debt was $95,000. If the property had not been burdened with the $200,000 consolidated first mortgage it would be today paying handsome dividends. The show management took the property when it was about to fall into the hands of a receiver, and operated it successfully, so which they certainly deserve credit."

Almost a Drowning

What came in it to a case of drowning occurred at Rebers, in the Scioto, north of town, Sunday. Thos. Kelly and brother and a party of four or five others went up to the hole for a swim, and Mr. Kelly soon found he could not swim after reaching deep water, and began sinking. A young fellow named W. A. Lee hurried to his rescue, but Kelly is a large man and quickly dragged him under. Then Al Morris, by whose endeavor managed to get Kelly out, with other assistance, and after a quarter of an hour of hard work the man was at last rescued. He was fully resuscitated. It was a narrow escape, however.

Tourists.
